Subscriptions: One year, $2; one month, 25 cts; single copy, 1 cent.
 Members of the Publishers' Press.—The latest telegraphic news from all parts of the world are received by this Daily Times up to the hour of going to press.
 Frank E. Langley, Publisher.
 Published Every Weekday Afternoon.
 Entered at the postoffice at Barre as second class matter.
 MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1903.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

2,804

A GAIN OF 400

In the daily circulation of the Times since Jan. 1st is something no other Washington county daily can show.

The circulation statements of the Times can always be verified by anyone who so wishes. Press room, circulation books, paper bills and all that pertains to the circulation of the Times are open to the inspection of all. Is there any other Washington county daily that will show up in like manner?

Relieved of his duties in the British cabinet, Hon. Joseph Chamberlain has been already invited by the Illinois Manufacturers' association to address a coming meeting at Chicago. The Chicagoans are nothing if not hustlers.

Thus far no Kentucky paper has made any comment on the ambushing and killing of a farmer near Montpelier, Vermont. Concord N. H. Monitor.

Nor has any satirical remark been heard recently of any half-civilized Filipino.

Dowie reports that he is going to "fay the devil" in New York city. If he meets with success in his encounter with the old fellow there, Dowie will undoubtedly receive invitations to other cities to repeat the operation. There seems to be a separate and distinct devil in every city.

The Barre Rangers football team is to be congratulated on its magnificent victory over the Strathcoons, the champions of Canada for three years, last Saturday. With such a fine exhibition their supporters will look for more excellent playing. Perhaps it will not be presumptuous to wish for them the championship of North America.

Senator Proctor's friends hasten to correct the press report that he was fined for shooting an animal on Sunday, and we are glad to make the correction. Yet the poor dead coon, slain before the unerring aim of the genial senator, remains a silent witness to the fact that all coons look alike to Senator Proctor, whether they be in New Hampshire or Vermont.

According to the Essex Record, Burlington is to have a new hotel, modern to all its equipments, and adapted for both summer visitors and commercial business. Would that the hotel be would buzz a little more lively around Barre, where, considering the size of the place, the prospects for a successful venture are more promising than in any town or city in Vermont.

The engaging game of "Why I Am What I Am" is still going on in Burlington, and the fever of the game seems to grow. One Patrick J. Russell now tells why he is exercising the functions of chief of police of that city. The other chief-of-police, paradoxically and contrary to the laws of physics, they have two bodies occupying the same space at the same time—the other chief has recently filed his reasons for laying claim to the same office. It is to be hoped, however, that the new game will not spread beyond the confines of the Queen City. Its effects are too demoralizing.

It must be merely a case of "advertising" himself, else why does not the editor of the Essex syndicate put into operation those lynching principles which he flouts, as the St. Albans Messenger suggests. Some time ago an opportunity was presented in Essex Junction itself and the "lynching" editor did not rise to the occasion. More recently a young man was arrested in the same town on a charge of assault, the details of which, if the account given in the Essex newspaper is to be given credence, were most revolting. Taking the matter home why did not the "lynching" editor by himself or with the aid of a mob proceed to lynch the young man before he had been given a fair opportunity to clear himself of the revolting charge? An excellent opportunity let slip, Bro. Hays, to put into operation that per propaganda of yours, which, we are glad to note, the people of Essex Junction were sensible enough not to embrace. Summoned down to the plain facts, it must be that the "lynching editor" is not sincere in his support of the practice of lynching, and that he is simply living up to an old motto of his, which reads "the newspaper that says something."

ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

A petition in bankruptcy has been filed by James W. Lester, a laborer of Putney. He has liabilities of $2,058.50 and assets of $304, of which $150 are claimed exempt.

Charles Taylor, the veteran horseman of Hartford, now in his 97th year, drove his trotter, Robert B. in the free-for-all race at the Springfield fair last week. He is said to be the oldest driver on the track to be found anywhere in the country.

John B. Corliss of Detroit, Mich., is visiting his parents and other relatives in Richmond, his native place. Mr. Corliss represented the 1st Michigan district in Congress from 1895 to 1903, but was defeated for re-election in 1902, by his Democratic opponent.

In Chittenden county court at Burlington Friday John Ashley was found guilty of selling liquor without a license. The evidence against the respondent tended to show that he conducted a resort of notoriety not far from Fort Ethan Allen and that he had dealt in liquors.

Lieut.-Col. Herbert S. Foster, U. S. A., who has been some time at his old home in North Calais and Montpelier, left this morning to join his station at Fort Bliss, Tex. Lieut.-Col. Foster was formerly on duty in the University of Vermont, Burlington, as instructor of military science and tactics.

P. J. Russell of Burlington, has filed an answer to the quo warranto proceedings against him by E. F. Brownell, recently removed from office of chief of police by Mayor James E. Burke, to make him show why he is exercising the duties of chief of police. When the writ of quo warranto was issued it required that an answer be filed within ten days and the order was complied with Friday.

"Those who know Senator Redfield Proctor do not need to be told that he never hunts on Sunday, or that the report sent out from Newport, N. H., in relation to paying a fine for killing a raccoon on the Sabbath did him a great injustice," says the Burlington Free Press. "As a matter of fact Senator Proctor, while out hunting in company with his grandson on Saturday afternoon, shot a raccoon, not dreaming that there was a law protecting that animal, and in view of the manner in which the animal is viewed in most states this supposition can hardly be regarded as strange. Indeed consultation of the game laws of all the states in the Union shows that the Granite State is the only one in which there is a closed season for raccoons. After the raccoon had been bagged he learned of the law, and at the first opportunity he informed on himself to the commissioner and paid the penalty without waiting for apprehension by any representative of the law."

Three Lost in Steamship Fire. St. John, N. B., Sept. 21.—While plowing her way up St. John river, with forty passengers and a heavy cargo of freight, the Star Line Steamship company's steamer David Weston caught fire, probably from a match dropped into a bale of hemp, and before she could run ashore was practically consumed. Three persons, a waitress, a deckhand and an eleven-year-old boy, one of the passengers, were drowned through jumping into the river in attempting to reach shore and escape from the flames.

Heroic Work of Life Savers. Grand Marais, Mich., Sept. 21.—In a furious southwest gale which swept Lake Superior the steamer A. A. Parker, laden with iron ore, foundered four miles north of Grand Marais. By heroic work the life saving crew from the station here saved the entire crew of eighteen men from the sinking ship only to have their surf boat imperiled in the rising sea. The life and death struggle ended only when two tugs saved the tossing surf boat and brought its exhausted occupants safely into port.

Funds Missing From National Bank. Marblehead, Mass., Sept. 21.—The announcement that the books of the Marblehead National bank, which have been under examination since the resignation of Cashier Reynolds on Aug. 21, show a discrepancy of $19,000 has caused a decided sensation in this town.

Killed Two to Save His Son. Fort Smith, Ark., Sept. 21.—Judge Russell, mayor of Gans, I. T., shot and killed two gamblers of Cherokee blood named Huck Martin and Jim Spotts, who were advancing upon a son of the mayor with knives and with the expressed intention of cutting his throat. Mayor Russell interfered, and the men threatened to cut his throat and advanced upon him, when he fired. Both men fell dead. Young Russell was city marshal last year and raided a gambling house conducted by Spotts and Martin, which is supposed to be the cause of the attempt upon his life.

Flood Damage in Wisconsin. Lacrosse, Wis., Sept. 21.—Reports received here estimate the damage to crops by floods in this immediate vicinity at $500,000. Nearby towns are heavy losers on account of the innumerable bridges being washed away.

Many Poisoned by Ice Cream. Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 21.—Seventy-four persons at North Syracuse are suffering from ptomaine poisoning caused by ice cream served at a W. C. T. U. social. No serious results are anticipated.

Illegal Immigration in Hawaii. Honolulu, Sept. 19.—Edward O. Isenborg, traveling agent of the American Federation of Labor for the Philippines, China and Japan, who has been investigating conditions in Hawaii, makes the announcement that 99 per cent of the Japanese coming here are illegally assisting immigrants. Hundreds are arriving monthly. He says he will so report to the federation, which probably will take steps to stop them.

State Senator in Postal Scandal. Binghamton, N. Y., Sept. 21.—State Senator George A. Green of this city, who was indicted at Washington a few days ago for alleged conspiracy to defraud the government in contracts for postal supplies, has been arrested and admitted to bail.

Fighter McCoy Divorced Again. New York, Sept. 21.—Justice Mischoff of the supreme court has signed the final decree of absolute divorce of Norman Selby, better known as Kid McCoy, from his wife, Julia E. Selby. This is the third divorce the Selbys have obtained.

Professor Kills Himself. Columbus, O., Sept. 21.—Professor Fred C. Clarke of the Ohio State university has committed suicide by shooting. It is supposed that unfortunate investments prompted the deed.

Public School Burned. Newton, N. J., Sept. 21.—The Newton public school building has been burned. The loss is $50,000.

A Wonderful Echo. In the Roman campaign at the sepulcher of Metella, wife of Sulla, there is an echo that repeats five times, each being in a different key. It will also repeat a hexameter line or another sentence than can be spoken in two and a half seconds.

A New South Wales Well. An artesian well in New South Wales is 4,083 feet deep, cost $51,733 and yields 750,000 gallons of water daily.

Best Grouse Wink Cup. Ogden, Utah, Sept. 21.—The loving cup offered by H. O. Havemeyer for the best display of sugar beets before the irrigation congress has been awarded to A. Rhodes of Garland, Utah.

Another New Trotting Record. Omaha, Neb., Sept. 21.—Crescent has broken another world's record at the exposition track by making a mile on a half mile track in 2:08 flat and also lowered his own record of 2:08 1/4.

Love Sick Girl Kills Herself. Oswego, N. Y., Sept. 21.—Thelma Gireux of Watertown, a handsome girl of twenty, has committed suicide at a hotel here by taking carbolic acid. She left an unfinished note indicating that she had been disappointed in love.

Same Thing. "I'm starved to death boarding" exclaimed the Calvert street man. "I'm bored to death starving," said the quick lunch fiend. —Baltimore News.

They Were. The race men who asserted that "Some horse make it in 3 flat" May now rejoice and cheer and carp: It's very plain they were 2 sharp! —Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

"A whaling expedition."—San Francisco Examiner.

Newport Labor Troubles Ended. Newport, R. I., Sept. 21.—The end of the series of labor troubles between employers and employees in various branches of the building trade in this city has been announced. The employers claim that they have won in their contest for free shops. They do not demand, however, that union men must work for less pay than the nonunion men, which was one of their original requirements.

Cheated Government, Now a Suicide. San Francisco, Sept. 21.—Deputy United States Marshal W. P. Gamble, who was arrested a few days ago for complicity in a plot to substitute old Chinese for young Chinese who had been ordered deported, has committed suicide at the Buena Vista hotel. Several days ago Gamble confessed his part in the scheme to defraud the government to United States Attorney Woodworth.
